

Some Background and Frequently Asked Questions about getting a Canadian Federal Firearms License (PAL) and/or an Ontario Hunting License

Here are answers to some common questions we receive. Hopefully they will clear some things up for you. Canadian Firearms law and Ontario hunting regulations can be complex and changes occur from time to time. The following information is therefore subject to change (due to the laws or regulations or public health situation changing e.g. COVID-19). If you have any further questions or want to register for a course or exam, please contact me – Wayne Passmore – 519-674-1213 or hunterandgunsafety@gmail.com An up to date listing of course dates & locations is online <https://hunterandgunsafety.com/events/> and basic course info is here: <https://hunterandgunsafety.com/about/>

1. How do I get my Canadian Federal Firearms License (PAL)?

You need to take a course, pass a test and complete a PAL application form. The course is no longer optional (as of July 2015).

Every person in Canada must have a PAL before they can legally own or possess a firearm or purchase ammunition in Canada. This applies to non-Canadian citizens (while in Canada) as well. If you want to own a firearm for trap and skeet or target shooting this is the only license you need. If you might want to hunt with a firearm, you should also see the section on getting a hunting license.

Some Background and Frequently Asked Questions about getting a Canadian Federal Firearms License (PAL) and/or an Ontario Hunting License

- a. To apply for a PAL, you need to have taken the Canadian Firearms Safety Course (CFSC) and passed the exam or test before you can apply. The course and optional text book will help you prepare for the exam. You must be 18 years old and apply for a firearms license. If under 18, your parent can request the Minor's License application, (by calling the CFO - 1-800-731-4000 ext. 7548 or emailing CFOON_Minors_applications@cfp-pcaf.ca) but the young person must have taken the CFSC and passed the exam.
- b. You must be taught and tested by a certified instructor/examiner for the Canadian Firearms Safety Course. A listing of instructors and examiners in Ontario is posted here - <http://www.fseso.org>
- c. You will leave the course with a copy of your course report and test results. Once you receive an invitation email from the RCMP, you can apply online or mail in your completed license application (including a copy of the test results) and you should expect your PAL in 1 to 2 months after applying, assuming everything goes smoothly.
- d. The online process and application forms are available online <https://rcmp.ca/en/firearms/apply-firearms-licence> if you meet the RCMP eligibility requirements, you can apply online, otherwise, there is a form to be downloaded, completed and then printed and sent along with proof that you passed the course

2. Tell me a bit about the CFSC and the exam?

- a. The CFSC course includes the "ACTS/PROVE" process, loading, unloading, range procedures, the shooting positions, the carry positions, everything up to but not including live fire exercises. You will learn the theory required for the written test and become familiar enough with each of the firearm action types that you should have no problem whatsoever in passing the practical handling portions of the test. We assume you have never handled a firearm before coming to the course.
 - i. The Canadian Firearms Safety Course test consists of 50 true/false and multiple-choice questions AND a "one on one" practical handling test (about 15-20 minutes per student) with non-restricted firearms.
 - ii. You must pass BOTH the written and the practical portions with at least 80% to pass the overall test.
 - iii. If you want to have Possession and Acquisition privileges for restricted firearms, like handguns or some military style semi-auto rifles, you must also take and pass the Canadian Restricted Firearms Safety Course (CRFSC) and exam. It is very similar to the CFSC, except it pertains to and uses restricted handguns for the course & practical test. You must be 18 years old to take the restricted firearms course.
- b. Since many people that want a PAL also want to get a hunting license, the Federal and Provincial governments approved a combined 20 hour "One Stop" course designed to cover the material for a hunting license and the CFSC, which can be completed over one weekend. There is an option to do the Hunting course online if you prefer that to an "in-person" course.

3. What resources are available to help me prepare for the CFSC (non-restricted firearms) or the CRFSC (restricted firearms) course and test?

- a. A paperback copy of the study manual (covering both CFSC & CRFSC) is available from us at the courses.
- b. It can be downloaded for free at: <http://publications.gc.ca/site/eng/9.801815/publication.html>
- c. The RCMP has made several training videos that are now on YouTube, showing the practical handling procedures for non-restricted and restricted firearms. Check out a link here and <http://www.youtube.com/user/1stShotFirearms> Searching CFSC or CRFSC at www.youtube.com may provide some useful information.

4. How do I arrange to take the CFSC or CRFSC courses and exams?

- a. To sign up for a COURSE: I need your full legal name, a phone number, city or town of residence, an email address, your age (if under 18 or confirmation that you are over 18) and the course(s) and dates you want (or just first available). You can register here: https://hunterandgunsafety.com/register/.
- b. A few days later you will get an email that confirms we have your information. To complete your registration, we require a $60 non-refundable deposit. The easiest way to send payment is via Interac e-Transfer (Electronic Money Transfer) to HunterAndGunSafety@gmail.com. Once we have a $60 per person deposit, we will place you on a course roster on a tentative basis. A week or two in advance of the course we will email you to ask you to RSVP to check that you are still intending to attend the course (or need to re-book). If you cancel AFTER Noon on the Monday preceding the course, or fail to attend the course, you will lose your deposit. If you contact us BEFORE NOON on the Monday preceding the course (or the course is cancelled due to public health, e.g. COVID-19), you will be able to re-book for a future course without penalty.
- c. Courses often fill up months in advance. Your full info and a deposit are required to reserve a spot.
- d. A list with details of our upcoming courses is here
- e. You can sign up for a course by contacting us at HunterAndGunSafety@gmail.com

<back to top>

5. What does the Canadian Firearms Safety Course Cover?

- a. The course follows the chapters or modules in the text book. See FAQ#3 to get a text book.
- b. In general the topics covered include: the evolution of firearms, major parts, types and actions, basic firearms safety practices, ammunition, operating firearms actions, safe handling and carrying procedures, firing techniques and procedures, care of firearms, responsibilities of the firearms owner/user, and safe storage, display, transportation and handling of firearms.
- c. In the course and test, all firearms are disabled and only dummy ammunition is used. You learn to identify and safely use 5 different actions types (bolt, lever, pump, break and semi-automatic).
- d. The Canadian Restricted Firearms Safety course is similar except that it focuses exclusively on handguns and the special aspects of restricted firearms in Canada. Students handle double and single action revolvers and semi-automatic pistols.

<back to top>

6. What about getting Restricted Firearms acquisition privileges at the same time?

- a. The Canadian government has passed laws that have made it more and more difficult to obtain and use firearms over the years. See https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Firearms_regulation_in_Canada
- b. If you are over 18 years of age, we strongly urge you to consider completing the Restricted course at the same time as your non-restricted, simply for the fact that it will not get any easier in the future and you are more than half way there once we have booked the non-restricted course.
- c. The Canadian Restricted Firearms Safety Course (CRFSC) is 4-6 hours long.
- d. We usually run Restricted Courses every few months, often on the same weekends as the CFSC.
- e. As of Jan. 2026, the cost for the Restricted Course and exam is $190. There is a discount of $40 ($150 vs. $190) if you have completed the Non-restricted course within the prior 60 days of the Restricted course.
- f. If you want a PAL with Restricted privileges (R-PAL), you must also have completed the non-restricted CFSC course and exam. (i.e. you can't only get a Restricted PAL; you must complete both non-restricted and restricted courses and testing).
- g. You can take the CFSC and CRFSC in any order (most people do the CFSC first, but that is not required).
- h. Information on the CRFSC is available at <http://www.rcmp-grc.gc.ca/en/firearms/firearms-safety>

Some Background and Frequently Asked Questions about getting a Canadian Federal Firearms License (PAL) and/or an Ontario Hunting License

7. I want to get my Hunting License. What do I have to do?
- Check out the requirements posted on www.ohep.net
 - We offer an “in-person” experience, with an instructor that will share relevant stories and answer your questions and increase your odds of passing the exam on the first attempt.
 - There is a 50-question true/false, multiple-choice test (but no practical handling exam).
 - If you want to use a rifle or a shotgun, you must also get a PAL. Most new hunters take the CFSC and Ontario Hunter Education Course (OHEC). You can do them in either order, with most people doing the CFSC first, but that is not required.
 - As of July 26, 2021, students have an option to do an online course and exam or an “in-person” course and exam. The online and in-person course each take about the same amount of time (7 to 8 hours, plus a test).
- <back to top>
8. Do I have to take the Ontario Hunter Education course to get a hunting license?
- Generally – Yes – The Ontario Hunter Education Course (OHEC) is mandatory for all wishing to get their Small Game or any hunting license. There are exceptions for people that have a hunting license from another state or province and have just moved to Ontario, or you are a diplomat, but otherwise, you must take the OHEC.
 - The Ministry of Natural Resources and Forestry requires students under age 15 to complete the Canadian Firearms Safety course and pass the exam in order to acquire a Hunter Apprentice Card.
 - Attending the Hunter Education Program portion of the “One Stop” course will allow you to write the provincial Hunting License test. Successful candidates will then apply to the Ministry of Natural Resources & Forestry to receive their Outdoors Card (www.ontario.ca/outdoorscard). You cannot go hunting for anything, period, without first getting your Outdoors card and the appropriate license.
- <back to top>
9. What are the hours for each course and what is a “One Stop” course?
- A “One Stop” course is a combined Ontario Hunter Education Course (OHEC) course (otherwise a minimum 7 hours) PLUS a Federal CFSC course “back-to-back”, usually over a 2 ½ day weekend covering ~20 hours.
 - Typical hours for a One Stop course are Friday night 6:30-10 pm, Sat 8 am - 4 pm +exams (for the CFSC) and Sun 8am - 4 pm plus the exam for the OHEC
 - Stand-alone CFSC course is Friday 6:30-10 pm and Saturday 8 am to 4 pm +exams
 - Stand-alone CRFSC course is Sunday 8 am to 4 pm +exams
 - Stand-alone Hunter Ed. Course is Sunday 8 am to 4 pm
 - Exams are usually held Saturday night from 5 to 9 pm and/or Sunday after the course is completed (or by mutually agreed appointment time). We try to schedule the CFSC practical exam on Saturday night, (after the course and after the written exam) – from 5 to 9 pm Sat. night. – it can take several hours as each student must do a 1:1 practical exam that takes 15 to 20 minutes each and there can be up to 12 students/instructor
 - Testing may add 1 to 3 hours to the course duration depending on:
 - class size,
 - how long it takes for you to write 1 or 2 exams and
 - where you are on the practical testing schedule (1st or 12th)
 - Students are usually tested right after their course is completed.
 - The testing schedule is flexible; however, we generally try to test those people who are travelling the greatest distances or those who have to go to work etc. first and then test the remaining students later in the evening. Your practical test runs about 15 – 20 minutes and is scheduled after the CFSC.
 - Special Needs: If for some reason you feel you would benefit from having these tests delivered orally (read to you) we can arrange for a reader to come in and you can complete the written portion of the test in that manner. There is no extra fee for this service but we do like to know in advance so we can make the appropriate arrangements.

- g. Note: you must attend the entire course (Friday night and all-day Sat.) in order to be eligible for the "completion of CFSC course" designation.

<back to top>

10. OK – I am signed up and confirmed for a course, what should I do before the course and what should I bring to the course?

- a. Please try to get the text book(s) ahead of time and read or at least skim them over. The books make excellent gifts for potential students. See FAQ#3 and #20 for how to get the books. Bring the books to the course.
- b. Be aware of any public health concerns e.g. COVID protocols. Bring your own mask if desired.
- c. On the first night, arrive by 6:30 pm to get checked in, find a seat and get registered.
- d. Payment for your course (net of the $60 minimum deposit), can be made in advance, but is due that first night. Cash or Electronic Money Transfer is preferred. We do not accept debit or credit cards.
- e. Bring ball point pens (black and / or blue). The forms must be filled out with this style of pen.
- f. Bring note paper and a highlighter (for the text books) (easier than taking a lot of notes).
- g. Bring original government issued ID (Drivers License, Passport, NEXUS, Birth certificate, Status Card, SIN etc.) Photo ID is best (Driver's License, Passport, etc.) for each person including Minors.
- h. DO NOT bring any live ammunition or firearms to the course. We will have at least one disabled firearm per person in the class and plenty of dummy ammo for practicing.

<back to top>

11. Are all the Instructors licensed and experienced?

- a. We usually have one instructor per course, sometimes with a helper. We are based in the Chatham/Blenheim area and are fully accredited in the Canadian Firearms Safety Course, Canadian Restricted Firearms Safety Course, Ontario Hunter Education Course, and Canadian Shooting Sports Association Handgun Safety course. Our instructors are listed on the www.fseso.org and the www.ohcp.net website as certified instructors & examiners. Our lead instructor is also an approved RCMP Firearms Verifier and brings over 35 plus years of shooting and hunting experience to each and every course, delivering a program superior to anything else offered in this region.

<back to top>

12. What happens if the course is cancelled?

- a. In the 25+ years I have been holding courses we have never cancelled a public course once it has been announced (i.e., posted on a website) – other than due to COVID. The COVID pandemic did cancel our March to July 2020 courses and many 2021 Courses, but we are back teaching as of Feb. 2022. A published course will run if COVID allows. Typical class sizes are around 10 to 12 for single instructor courses and twice that for double instructor courses.

<back to top>

13. How often do you run Public or Private Courses and exams?

- a. Usually, we hold public courses once per month. Check our website <https://hunterandgunsafety.com/events/> for an up to date listing of course dates and locations.
- b. If you have a group of 8 or more, we can create a private course just for your group. If you don't quite have enough people, we can try to combine your group with another to fill it up to the minimum needed to put on a course.

<back to top>

14. What are the common fees (payable to the instructor / examiner) for the various courses and exams?

Fees as of January 2026:

Some Background and Frequently Asked Questions about getting a Canadian Federal Firearms License (PAL) and/or an Ontario Hunting License

- a. CFSC with the written and practical exam = $190
- b. CRFSC with the written and practical exam = $190 ($150 if done within 60 days of the CFSC)
- c. Ontario Hunter Education Course with exams = $100
- d. CFSC + CRFSC = $340 (if done on the same weekend, or CRFSC within 60 days of CFSC)
- e. "One Stop" – Combined CFSC + "in-person" Hunter Ed. Course = $290
- f. All three courses and exams (CFSC + CRFSC + "in-person" Hunter Ed. course) with exams = $440 (you can do the courses in any order – most people take the CFSC first, but that is not required).
- g. If you take the course(s) and fail any of the tests on the first attempt, we offer the option to re-take that same course, for free, within 6 months, if you commit to do the re-test with us.
- h. If you fail and need a re-test for CFSC (both written and practical) test only (no course) = $60
- i. If you fail and need a re-test for CRFSC (both written and practical) test only (no course) = $60
- j. If you fail and need to re-test the Hunter Education Course Test (written only- there is no Hunter Ed. Practical) = $40
- k. If you fail either the written or practical portions of the CFSC or CRFSC (pass = 80%), you must take both parts over again and pay the $60 fee again
- l. The above fees exclude the cost of the text books.

<back to top>

15. When are the fees payable?

- a. A minimum of $60 per person (per weekend) non-refundable deposit is required as part of the registration process to secure your spot on the course. The easiest way to send payment is via Interac e-Transfer (Electronic Money Transfer) to us at hunterandgunsafety@gmail.com. Be sure to include the full name(s) of the person(s) being covered by the deposit, the course(s) requested and the preferred date of the course in the notes. Payments to this email should auto-deposit, if prompted set the answer to the security question to "SafetyFirst" if a question is required. Once we have a $60 per course deposit, we will place you on a course roster on a tentative basis. A week or two in advance of the course we will email you to ask you to RSVP to check that you are intending to attend the course (or need to re-book). If you cancel AFTER Noon on the Monday preceding the course, or do not attend the course, you will lose your deposit. If you contact us BEFORE NOON on the Monday preceding the course, with a request to change course dates, (or the course is cancelled due to Public Health concerns), you will be able to re-book for a future course without penalty.
- b. Final course payment (net of the $60 deposit) must be received no later than at the beginning of the course. Cash at the beginning of the course or Interac e-Transfer (Electronic Money Transfer) only. We do not have access to debit or credit payment options. If you haven't yet bought text books, bring cash for that please - $20 for CFSC/CRFSC - but try to get and read it earlier.
- c. If you plan to come back and do another course with us at a future date, we can "roll" your deposit from the current course to the future course after you pay for the first course in full.
- d. Deposits are not transferable between different people and do not expire.

<back to top>

16. What are the fees payable to the government?

- a. A "first time" PAL with only non-restricted is ~$70 (as of Mar 2025) (good for 5 years).
- b. A "first time" PAL with both non-restricted AND restricted privileges is ~$92 (as of Mar 2025 & good for 5 years).
- c. Upgrading from a non-restricted PAL to a restricted PAL is ~$46 and you need to re-submit the full PAL application.
- d. See <https://rcmp.ca/en/firearms/changes-service-fees> for more details.

Some Background and Frequently Asked Questions about getting a Canadian Federal Firearms License (PAL) and/or an Ontario Hunting License

17. If I pass my tests do I ever have to re-take the tests or take the course(s) again?
- No - only if the courts revoke your license or order that retaking the course and/or test is a condition of getting your license back. It is similar to your Ontario driver's license; once you get it, you just keep renewing it. (don't let your PAL expire if you still own firearms – it is a criminal offence to have firearms without a valid license)
 - Upon completion of the exams you will receive a "Course Report" that proves you have passed the course and tests. We strongly suggest you scan and archive a copy of your Course Report(s) and apply for your PAL immediately. If you wait years before applying for the PAL and lose your course report(s) and the government cannot find their copy, they may make you take the course again. We suggest applying for your PAL as soon as you can – right after the course. <back to top>
18. What are the minimum age requirements?
- To get a PAL, you must be 18 and have passed the test. Those under 18 can have their parents apply for a Minor's License on their behalf, but the minor must take the course and pass the test. See <https://rcmp.ca/en/firearms/licensing/minors>
 - To hunt, un-supervised, in Ontario, you must be 15 and you must have a Minor's License. The requirements for hunting vary by age. Check out www.ohep.net for more details.
 - You can hunt, under supervision, with a licensed mentor who is over 18, if you are 12-14 and you have taken the Ontario Hunter Education Course and passed the CFSC.
 - You must be 18 to take the Restricted Course (CRFSC) "for score". <back to top>
19. How do I know if my daughter or son, grandchild etc. is mature enough to take the course?
- We do not recommend taking the CFSC and Ontario Hunter Ed. Course unless you are over 12.
 - The CFSC material and tests were written at the Grade 7 reading level (12 yr old level).
 - All participants are expected to complete their own course participant forms (requires knowing their full mailing address, phone number, email address) and signing with a cursive signature.
 - Our experience is that students that have been "pushed" to attend the course will not be successful in passing. We recommend that the prospective student obtain the 2 text books (for the One Stop course – See FAQ#20) ahead of time and read them before committing to the course or test. If the student devours the books and craves more knowledge, then they are ready. <back to top>
20. What 2 text books are used in the courses?
- For the CFSC or CRFSC, the text book is the "Canadian Firearms Safety Course Manual". It can be downloaded for free at: <http://publications.gc.ca/site/eng/9.801815/publication.html> You can use a tablet or laptop with the download or hard copies are available from us at the courses.
 - For the Ontario Hunter Education Course, this text book will be handed out at the Course. If you want to read it ahead of time, it is available at https://www.ohep.net/wp-content/uploads/2021/12/HunterEducationManual_2021.pdf
 - The Ontario Hunting regulations are provided to each student taking the Hunting Course and a copy can be used by the student while taking the OHEC test. Students are encouraged to also read over it ahead of time. <back to top>
21. I took my "gun test" a long time ago – do I have to take the test or course again?
- It depends on what test was actually taken and passed. If it was the old Hunter Education course and test, you may have already met the requirements for obtaining a hunting license – but probably not a PAL. If the "test" was after 1993, it might have been an early version of the CFSC test and it might meet the PAL requirements. Find the paperwork you received when you did the test and verify what it actually covered. Firearms courses and tests prior to Feb. 2, 1999 covered both restricted and non-restricted firearms. Since then, there are separate courses and tests for each.

Some Background and Frequently Asked Questions about getting a Canadian Federal Firearms License (PAL) and/or an Ontario Hunting License

- b. The RCMP can verify if you have already taken a test that meets the requirements of the PAL (if they can find you in their system). Contact the Canadian Firearms Program for help with this at <https://rcmp.ca/en/firearms/contact-canadian-firearms-program>
- c. For Hunting, if you can't find the paperwork, the MNRF can do archive searches to verify that you have the hunting course and exam already completed. Contact Service Ontario to verify your particular hunting requirements or to initiate a records search. See www.serviceontario.ca for more information. Start by calling the Outdoors Card centre at 1-800-387-7011.
- d. If it has been a long time since you have taken a test, you should know that the laws have changed over time and you may want to consider re-taking the course(s) and test(s) just to get “re-acquainted” with the new laws and materials.

<back to top>

22. I work most weekends, which is when you offer the course – what sort of flexibility can you provide?

- a. In general, most courses are offered Friday nights and weekends. See FAQ#9 for normal times. We will offer other dates and times for private courses.
- b. There is flexibility to spread your course(s) over two or 3 different dates / weekends.
- c. You can take the CFSC portion one weekend and the CRFSC or OHEC on another weekend. Most people take the CFSC first, but this is not a requirement. You can take any of our three courses in any order. Since the processing time for getting a PAL takes several months, while getting a hunting license after the course takes a few days, we suggest taking the CFSC and/or CRFSC before the OHEC.

<back to top>

23. What is involved in getting a restricted firearm so I can go target shooting?

This procedure has changed as a result of Bill C-42 coming into effect in July of 2015. The Federal Liberal government has passed new legislation (C-71) that will impact restricted firearms users. New PALs that have restricted privileges include TWO automatic ATT conditions attached at issuance – carefully read the letter that comes with your PAL. Upon purchase of your first restricted firearm, several standard ATT conditions are automatically added to your license. See <https://rcmp.ca/en/firearms/former-bill-c-71-what-you-need-know>

As of Oct 2022, via Bill C-21, the Federal government has implemented a “ban” on the legal permanent transfer of most restricted handguns. You can however, still get a PAL with Restricted privileges (R-PAL) and borrow or use restricted firearms and certain jobs continue to require R-PALs, so we will continue to teach the CRFSC as long as there is demand for the course.

24. What are some other resources that I should be aware of?

- a. Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters – www.ofah.org – all new hunters should join. Membership includes liability insurance, a great magazine, keeping you up to date on hunter issues in Ontario and good liability insurance and the way to get your turkey training.
- b. Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources and Forestry – www.ontario.ca/mnr - a good source of information including maps and regulations.
- c. Canadian Firearms Program of the RCMP - <https://rcmp.ca/en/firearms> - licensing and registration of firearms, legal requirements, PAL applications etc. Via website or 1-800-731-4000
- d. Ontario Hunter Education Program www.ohep.net – good information on getting your hunting license, ordering the Hunter Ed manual, a listing of Hunter Education Instructors and more information on the Hunter Apprenticeship Safety Program.
- e. Firearms Safety Education Service of Ontario – www.fseso.org – an Ontario organization dedicated to teaching firearms safety - includes a listing of instructors and examiners and the source for the CFSC and CRFSC text books.
- f. Rondeau Bay Waterfowler's - <http://rondeauwaterfowlers.com> - a local group that runs duck hunting in Rondeau Provincial Park and Rondeau Bay
